AMEND House Joint Resolution No. 23*

by adding the following language after the first clause in the preamble:

WHEREAS, members of the Tennessee General Assembly, at the urging and with the assistance of the American Chemical Society, established the first state legislative STEM Education Caucus, a nonpartisan forum for Tennessee legislators and outside business, science, technology, and education communities, to come together to discuss challenges, problems, and solutions to developing an innovative workforce and preparing the next generation of Tennessee's scientists, mathematicians, engineers, and technicians; and
